

PHILADELPHIA CISV'S 2020 EQUITY AND INCLUSION SERIES

We are looking forward to exploring the following material as we challenge ourselves to build a better CISV and a better world together.

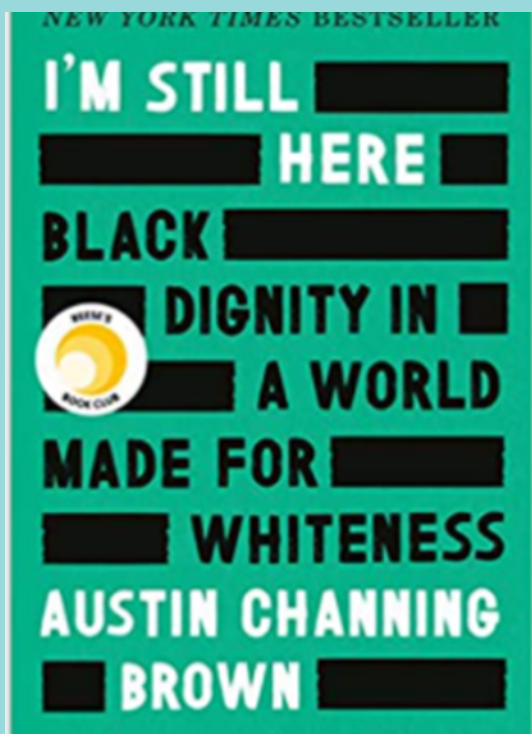

Sessions 1-3 will be watch parties with us watching and discussing "The Next Question".

This web series engages leaders, activists, creatives, and thinkers imagining how expansive racial justice can be. Each week, hosts Austin Channing Brown, Chi Chi Okwu, and Jenny Booth Potter expand imaginations with the help of incredible contributors. But it's not just about the show. These in-depth conversations have become the groundswell for book clubs, reading homework, discussion groups, and more.

Session 4 will be a discussion of the book:

In a time when nearly all institutions (schools, churches, universities, businesses) claim to value "diversity" in their mission statements, I'm Still Here is a powerful account of how and why our actions so often fall short of our words. Austin writes in breathtaking detail about her journey to self-worth and the pitfalls that kill our attempts at racial justice, in stories that bear witness to the complexity of America's social fabric--from Black Cleveland neighborhoods to private schools in the middle-class suburbs, from prison walls to the boardrooms at majority-white organizations.
